Orhan Camkara IT Manager

“I am responsible for maintaining network and security in the school, and have been in this role for past 12 years. We have been using Fastvue Reporter for since May 2020.”

What were the challenges at your school that led you to look at Fastvue Reporter?

“We were previously using our firewall's reporting but it was not providing the data we were seeking and many things were going unnoticed.

There were tons of logs being generated by the firewall, but it was too difficult to reach the data I was looking for, and I could never get useful insights from them. I looked at many reporting products before coming across Fastvue noticed that Fastvue provided even more information than I needed.”

How is Fastvue Reporter used in your school?

“We receive alerts for a variety of use cases at different severity levels. These range from very serious alerts that may indicate issues with student mental health, through to more informational alerts such as large downloads.

After running Fastvue for over a year, we have a much better understanding of teenager online behaviour including what they are interested in learning about such as biological facts and so on. Our Deans for both Primary and Secondary are now using the insights delivered by Fastvue to help shape their plans and activities around how to engage with students on these relevant topics in a healthy manner.

From an IT perspective, the graphic visibility I get with Fastvue is amazing. With one look at the Fastvue screen I can see what is going on with my network. I can't live without it. We recently moved to a different firewall and my number one primary concern was 'Will it work with Fastvue?'

I also want to add that Fastvue has the best support! They are always available and always very helpful, which is a very important fact.”

Challenges

- Difficult to extract useful information on student online safety from the firewall
- Could not identify or alert staff to “at risk” students
- Poor visibility over network activity

Solution

Key benefits

- Alerts for “at risk” behaviour such as self harm, sent to the right staff member
- Meaningful, easy to read reports sent to school Deans and Councillors
- Creation of engaging educational content informed by issues identified in reports
- Easy visibility into student behaviour, bandwidth, and network security issues

“After running Fastvue for over a year, we have a much better understanding of teenager online behaviour”
